

ARMY FAMILIES FEDERATION OFFER

Join the Royal Geographical Society (with IBG) before 31 December 2007 and save up to £30.

Why join?

As an adventurer and traveller you'll find plenty on offer to inspire your interest in the world. You can use our resources to support your expeditions and travels, pick up practical advice, contacts and inspiration. Learn more about the geographies of the world's emerging and historical nations. Attend fascinating lectures and learn from the expeditions of others.

Who are members?

By becoming a member you will be joining an active group of 14,000 people based in the UK and overseas. Our members come from all fields of interest, some use geography actively within their profession - as engineers or in field research, as well as professionals from companies and the public sector - others just enjoy geographical knowledge and travel.

What you'll get:

- Unlimited use of our collection of guides, maps and travel documents
- Free entrance for you and a guest to our renowned weekly London lectures
- Advice, expertise and training for essential expedition preparation
- Log on to the new member's area on the Society's website with offers on books, products and incentives
- For Fellows a choice of subscriptions to a range of publications
- For Members includes a yearly subscription to 'Geographical' magazine

Become a Fellow of the Society
normally £109.00

AFF Offer £79.00 (save £30.00 joining fee)

Fellowship is for those - over 21 years - actively involved in geography or a related subject. You will be using geography in your profession or interests or may have studied geography at university.

Join as a Member
normally £111.00

Soldier Offer £96.00 (save £15.00 joining fee)

Membership is open to anyone with an enthusiasm for geography. You might love to travel, enjoy the 'great outdoors' or simply just want to understand more about our world.

For information about this offer visit www.rgs.org/joinus Email membership@rgs.org or telephone 020 7591 3080. Reference 'RECAFF' must be quoted on all applications