

2nd MARCH 2004 LONDON W3 6YJ

Dear Sirs,

In response to your leaflet entitled Your BBC Your Say may I state my opinions regarding the BBC.

What I value very highly is what I hope is truthful reporting of national and International News. The BBC has, in the past, enjoyed a very high reputation for its honesty and truthfulness. Please, can the BBC do all it can to ensure such a reputation is rightly deserved in the future.

What I would like to see more of on the BBC are things like the following:-

The dramatisation of various novels such as those of Jane Austen, George Eliot, Elizabeth Gaskell, Daphne Du Maurier etc.

Along with the novels there are the straight historical dramas such as The Six Wives of Henry VIII, Elizabeth R, The Life and Times of David Lloyd George etc.

Then there are the Natural History programmes for example The World About Us, Arcles to Amazon, Walking with Dinosaurs, The Natural World etc.

As regards paying for the BBC, at the moment

I think the licence fee is the best method.

One way the public could ensure the BBC is properly accountable to us, the viewers is to have a 'sliding scale'. By this I mean the higher the number of letters of complaint
the BBC receives the more is deducted from the BBC Governors Salaries.

I leave you to ponder
my proposals.

Yours faithfully
R.F. Anderson
