

From: Roy Baker
Sent: 16 December 2003 18:02
To: BBC Charter Review
Subject: BBC Charter

Dear Sir/Madam,

The BBC does extremely well in what it covers, and your News 24 is excellent.

It would be rather good if there were more comedy programmes for the family on BBC1, shows that everyone can watch, it seems such a shame that there is so little at the moment.

Your period programmes are second to none and more historical fact programmes of this nature would be good.

Shows which are shown after the watershed have been reasonably good, but many of them including some talk shows use more expletives than is necessary.

I am not a prude, I used to be a truck driver and also ran my own transport company, but there is only so much of that language that is necessary before it becomes boring, and that is not what we expect from the BBC.

I have noticed that many of your programmes are repeated on several satellite channel which are controlled by SKY and if I wish to watch them I have to pay for them, surely as I have all ready contributed to the making or purchase of these programmes I should be able to watch them for nothing.

I am unfortunately disabled and not in a position to afford the cost of having to pay SKY for that privilege, perhaps it would be a good idea if the BBC ran it's own Channel of repeats so that the many people who are not in the position to afford SKY could watch them for free as we have paid our licence fee.

Yours Respectfully

Roy Baker

HIGHLANDER

---

IncrediMail - Email has finally evolved - Click Here

PLEASE NOTE: THE ABOVE MESSAGE WAS RECEIVED FROM THE INTERNET.

On entering the GSI, this email was scanned for viruses by the Government Secure Intranet (GSI) virus scanning service supplied exclusively by Cable & Wireless in partnership with MessageLabs.

GSI users see <http://www.gsi.gov.uk/main/notices/information/gsi-003-2002.pdf> for further details. In case of problems, please call your organisational IT helpdesk