

From: Marla Berger
Sent: 17 December 2003 00:02
To: BBC Charter Review
Subject: Eastenders

Hello,

I am one angry American who among over 10,000 others want to voice my opinion of BBC. Why in the world did they think by canceling Eastenders the Americans would sit still and do nothing. We are all very mad especially when they put on the same programs over and over and over again. They advertise the heck out of all the other programs but never once in a long time did I see an advertisement for Eastenders. And then again they put it on at such a wonderful time (sarcastic). Why not put it on during the late, late evening if they weren't getting the audience they wanted. No they put it on right in the middle of a Saturday. Look I could go on and on, but that would bore you and get us nowhere. I just want you to know that I am very disappointed with BBC. I truly hope you realize what you have done and put the program back on the air.

Marla Berger