BBC Charter Review Consultation,

The BBC provides some excellent programmes on Wildlife, Archeology & presentation of Classics of literature.

There appears, however, to be a growing tendency to include too much sexually explicit material & the normalisation of immoral behaviour in programmes/films produced for the listener/viewer.

It is becoming increasingly difficult to find programmes that we can watch and enjoy unreservedly.

I wish to protest at this tendency to depict lower standards of morality & decency, and to ask you to remedy these defects in the next review of BBC aims
