Dear Sir or madam

on various occasions

I have wrote to Mr Tony Blair ~~our~~ over our television licence going up every year not a £1 a year but about £5 or so every time he has got you to write to me. I phoned the lady on the phone number on the letter she advised ^{me} to write to you and air my views she was saying the licence keeps going up because of the BBC channel. But all we get is. Repeats

I being a Disabled person I get Severe Disability & DLA that I get £112 a week if it was not for my weeks with the combined income support I would not be able to afford they the social are only putting the Severe Disablement benefits up a £1 every year plus everything goes up gas electric water and your television licensing. Do you think this is fair. I had to give up work through epilepsy and injections for another illness. I have to have permanently the injections is their going to be a ~~bedline~~ Deadline that it will stop at a price, or will it degenerately go up every year it will go up to about £300 or so knowing your rate and I have no support as my husband left me 5 years ago, as he used to pay for the licences I Do pay stamps which is easier Please answer back to me and inform to me what is going to happen. as regards putting up of the biscuits.

thank you

yours sincerely

Mrs. Ann. Cope
