

Sent: 16 December 2003 12:29
To: BBC Charter Review

I resent paying for my license as the service provided by the BBC is terrible. The shows are rubbish and terrestrial viewers are left paying hiked up fees to support the BBC's digital dream.

The service is dominated by the south and no programmes are available that appeal to the mid-twenty viewer. No one watches Eastenders but a bunch of old house wives and the vast majority of programmes are repeats. How many times have I seen Open All hours, or Only Fools and Horses. The Lottery flagship programme is rubbish and why am I paying for Asian Radio?

I can't remember the last time I saw a decent film on BBC 1 and having Jonathan Ross as a film show host is a joke.

Mark Eccleston