

23.3.04

BBC Radio is a lifeline to this oldie
— also T.V. become
For some time I have sick of programmes of quite often serious content having a background of drumming; in my opinion it does not enhance the programmes & to me

/over

BBC Charter Review Consultation, Dept of Culture,
Media Sport,
2-4 Cockspur St,
LONDON SW1Y 5AH.

distracts from the content of the programme.

Also when an accompanying orchestra, band, what-have-you plays in this way it gives me the message that the programme is unable to stand on its own merit. It
smacks of insecurity.

Bar R. Gilmore