Dear Sir/Madam,

In regards to the B.B.C. Charter Review Consultation.

Would you please advice me as to Why there are not any new comedy or variety programmes on the television now - only repeats of very good programmes from the past, which I agree are worth looking at again, where has the humour gone?, is it the lack of writers, producers, directors etc for this type of programme, or is it that you think the public prefer more serious programmes, that no new ones are being produced now.

Trusting you will acknowledge this matter.

Margaret Harding (MRS).
