

From: Paul S Johnson]Sent: 16 December 2003 10:32
To: BBC Charter Review
Subject: BBC Charter Review - Comments

Dear Sir/Madam,

There is no question that the BBC is a marvelous institution - much-loved, informative and educational.

However, there should be a separation between the Media and the Government in a modern, progressive, democratic society. I believe the BBC is well equipped to deal with this independence, which will enable it to compete with other media channels on an equal footing.