

VIEWS ON THE BBC

- 1) What do you value most? Its wide coverage and its impartiality. Programmes like Today are regrettably growing less & less impartial - I value news most. Arts next.
- 2) How should the BBC adapt -- Digital TV (BBC 3, 4 etc) is improving but it is very hard to discover what is on - TV Times details are in such tiny type that one cannot read them. I appreciate BBC 1 & 2 giving highlights of what is coming on 3 & 4.
- 3) What do you think of ... I dislike intensely the way that way things now has to be so coarse (even the 2 Johns, Bird & Fortune). This really does need checking.
- 4) Commercial services Yes. They should be expanded.

5) How should we pay No views

6) BBC organisation Ditto

7) Regulation etc Ditto

public is interested primarily in what the BBC produces & not in its own internal affairs.

8) Accountability The BBC is accountable to the public, who pay for it - Perhaps more members of the public could have an influence through discussion programmes etc. Details of public meetings on your website are a good idea. These news have not got a computer i.e. we

I have two complaints or small irritating issues :-
1) The programming schedules are infuriating with programmes all on pendant one evening & all on cooking another. It was much letter before Greg Dyke so I suppose he had something to do with it.

2) The padding habit of putting the titles too small, much too fast and of doubling up in split screens. I actually want to know cast lists, production details etc. but it is quite impossible to see them.

— Can't think of any more views at the moment — I love the BBC whatever its faults (!)

Yours faithfully

Wanda Ferguson