

From: Vad Lazari
Sent: 16 December 2003 12:32
To: BBC Charter Review
Subject: BBC Review

Dear Sir,

I object to the compulsory levy on televisual viewing enforced by the licence fee. I do not wish to pay for the upkeep of the BBC if I do not view their channels. Its existence is a throwback to the times of limited television choice and completely incompatible with today's multichannel, multiprovider digital television age and it should be removed without delay.

Thank you

Vad Lazari
