Dear Sirs,

The future of the "Empirical Body" known as the British Broadcasting Corporation should not have to wait until the year 2007, it should be carried out within the next year at the latest.

My many associates, friends, family, others and myself are all of the opinion, that this Empire should be disbanded and the finance from this should be used to benefit the Public, who have funded this this now very Biased Institution.

Other Broadcasters make a success of their ventures without yearly levies being imposed on the Public, because of Political Edicts.

The BBC should have been forced to release its Fiscal Strangle hold on the viewers many years ago, and earned its own revenue.

Looking back over the last seventy years I have seen countless £ millions spent and wasted on a Catalogue of 'Ego' Policy. not counting the cost of tiers of management, Salaries and Expenses, with innumerable staff.

There has been no proper public accounting, they do what they like, when they like with Public money

The quality of programme has even more increasingly declined Repeat, Repeat along with other 3rd Rate Rubbish viewing, Some exceptions but very few
 A Poll if taken today would confirm the majority of the Public would vote to disband this "non accountable monster"

Ad Nascum
