

TV CHARTER FOR THE BBC

Dear Sir, or Madan,

The BBC has a charter that can only be renewed every century and only then it can be altered and this was put in place at the very beginning and this is not right the charter is up for renewal in the year 2006 and after this date as it stands the next time will be 2106 none of us will be alive so there are some ideas to bring the BBC in line with every one else.

1 free licences for all blind

2 free licences for all old from the age of 60 years old

3 stop it being a criminal offence and no fines

4 the BBC should have a box set and charge by a viewing card

5 as its stands the BBC has the monopoly on all the other TV channals and that is not fair to the viewer

6 The BBC has plans to shut down all of the analoge transmitters in about ten years and thats why the TV are moving out of Britain and setting up some where else in Europe which still have analogue transmitters

7 If there is any thing that stands out from the rest it is how much the BBC waste licence payers money and it has to stop and it has to be capped for it is going up andup and they are making more and more money from us all and it has to stop

I hope that you can use my ideas.

MR I R Sloan
