Dear Beeb,

I got your "Your BBC Your Say" pamphlet, and I thought I'd have a crack at some of the questions - as follows:-

- What do you value most about the BBC? I think the news - as it's less biased reporting than ITN.
- How should the BBC adapt to cope with changes in technology + culture? Myself, I still only have ~~ordinary (non-digital)~~ TV + radio, so I think when you launch new TV + radio stations, you should broadcast them on ordinary UHF + FM as well as digital. (Were not all on £30 thou - plus)
- What do you think of the TV, radio + online services the BBC provides? We're a non-internet household, so I don't know about the online services. Fairly happy with BBC1 + BBC2. I think Radio 7 ought to have the odd non-music show, and praps more news bulletins.

■ Should the BBC run commercial Services? NO

■ How should we pay for the BBC? I see no reason it shouldn't be funded from Income Tax, it is meant to be a public service, after all.

■ Is the BBC organised in the most effective + efficient way? How on earth should I know?!

■ How should the BBC be run? How should it be regulated? In, perhaps, a bit more of a democratic way.

■ How do we ensure that the BBC is properly accountable to the public + parliament?

Praps postal^{and} or E-Mail voting for the public, and ~~bigger parliament~~ off altogether — they do it to us!

Yours faithfully,

Eddy (E. C. Ware)
