

8-3-04.

Dear Sir,

In reply to your questionnaire concerning the B.B.C.

As an O.A.P. living on a basic state pension, I feel that it's time that the B.B.C. stood on its own two feet. We've propped it up long enough.

Why should I have to pay for services that I can't afford? I have no computer to take part in 'Question Time' etc. I do not use the World Radio.

I can't even use all of the channels that my B.B.C has to offer. I don't have the £100 box needed to receive them.

Not only that, but all too often there is NOTHING on T.V for me to watch.

Sport both channels. Very often the same match is being shown on ITV at the same time.

I sit to watch an advertised program, only to find a ^{group} of men dissecting a mailed 'kick by kick'

This happened yesterday lunch time.

On last night's 'Panorama' the acting chairman of the B.B.C. said that if they were to rely on subscriptions only 50% of the licence payers would subscribe. They can't be over confident in their service.

I suggest that the B.B.C should be financed by advertising

I listen to my local radio, and am quite prepared to pay a radio licence.

Yours ~~Sincerely~~ Yours

BORNHIVE WEEKS

P.S.
I AM NOT YET
OLD ENOUGH FOR A FREE T.V.
LICENCE