

11.03.04

Mr. J. WESTERN

As my wife and I only receive B.B.C. 1 + 2 (PLUS I.T.V.) we find that there are far too many experts, therefore the T.V. licence in our opinion is far too expensive.

As regards to sports programmes; why on earth do you need all those so called experts to tell us what we have just seen. I am not at all interested in their opinion.

I think you could save quite a lot of money, by scrapping at least 75-80% of these people.

I hate to think how many of these experts you are going to employ for the Olympic games and how much money it will cost the viewer in licence fees.

There are still several programmes that we will watch on the B.B.C., but these are becoming few and far between because of all the repeats etc.

I may be in the minority but those are my own opinions.

Sincerely

A handwritten signature in cursive script, appearing to read "J. P. Lester". The signature is written in dark ink and is underlined with a single horizontal stroke.