

BBC

9th. March 05

Dear Sirs,

I am one of the many who do not understand why all the good programs such as nature or documentaries have music or drums pounding away. Sometimes the volume overrides the voice.

Do any of the BBC staff ever watch their programs? I doubt it.

J. G. Adams

A handwritten signature in cursive script, appearing to read 'J. G. Adams', with a long horizontal flourish extending to the right.