BBC Charter Review
2-4 Cockspur St

March 31, 2005

Dear Sir

In response to your advert on page 6 of the Daily Telegraph 24th March.

Firstly it is not my BBC – it is your BBC, you lot get paid whether I watch or listen to your programmes or not. I get no choice in the matter along with every other hapless TV set owner.

Radio 4 is ok but most of your TV output is, frankly, crap, not to put too fine a point on it. The public consumer is no longer fooled by all that self righteous, patronizing garbage about “serving the public”, peeerlease.

The licence fee is undemocratic, unfair and violates my human rights to choose what I watch or listen to. Pay per view is the only fair solution.

The only reason I pay my licence fee is because my wife is not too partial to prison visiting. Otherwise I would happily go to jail to make my point. My fervent wish is that the BBC Charter is withdrawn as soon as possible.

Kindest Regards

Bill Allan

PS Hope to meet you all at the job centre soon.
