RE YOUR BBC, YOUR SAY

May we please have less violence in programmes -

less sex, leave some things to ones imagination -

less Queens - (sorry gays & lesbians), progs normal people don't want to watch.

If we must have sport on BBC1 from '12.30 till 5.10, The News', on Saturday, please put something on BB2 that is watchable so we can go to another room & TV.!!

Bring back some of the old series one watched when young - Poldark etc, a must each week as I remember to my parents,

Please don't remake them, just repeat them as they were - you have spoilt so many super programmes by trying to bring them up to date, instead of letting us see the original versions -

'Nolby City' - 'Casualty' - 'Strictly Come Dancing' - 'Panorama', all 'Antique Roadshows' - 'Bargain Hunt' -

(without David Dickenson), "Hog it" all excellent, even if one has to video at times ~~all~~ interesting programmes, even something similar to the old 'Sunday Night at the Palladium', get please into more variation - I could go on & on but I guess it will all fall on deaf ears! & Thank goodness for the Radio 2, except for a Saturday mornings with Jonathan Ross & his stupid voice, an absolute turn off, he is a bit better on TV, his speed is more audible -

Yours faithfully
Pauline Carter (Mrs)

P.S. We have repeats of the "Good Life" let us have some more repeats of popular Series
