To the BBC Charter Review,
c/o Department for Culture, Media & Sport,

Dear Sir or Madam,

I should like to say that the quality and content of BBC 1 & 2 is at a very poor state and is not value for money when considering its high level of licence fees charged.

For example on BBC 1 from 9am-4pm on week days we are constantly subject to endless streams of non-stop repeats. We are treated, the viewing public with contempt and suffer greatly from an unregenerative Service Broadcaster.

Sadly BBC2 is no better.
Even the Freeview Channels
BBC3, BB4 are appalling.
For example, Shirley Christmas, Two Pints of Lager & the Mighty Boosh are absolute rubbish and have a great turning off factor.

They are cheap and nasty the only saving grace is Little Britain.

Please could the BBC be forced to improve the quality and variety of its programmes and not take the viewing/paying public for granted.

Sincerely,

MR. Patrick J. Casey
(MR. PATRICK J. CASEY)
