

Dear Sir or Madam,

17/3/05

I think will include the pivotal work of the century. Peter Jung wrote to me in the 1994-5 missed turning-point for development ie the anniversary of Bletchley Woods.

The BBC destroyed development: Bin Laden started in 1994, the Russian army invaded Chechnya, Rwanda; all 1994.

So I have now prepared a seven million pound reversal (with desert island known in as symbol of 'changed landscape') of the Birt revolution: Creativity is needed,

With that on board the BBC could make it: reverse, ditch it.

Yours faithfully,
Mr Peter Galpin
