

From Barbara B Guin
(GINN)

Comments on the BBC

- Bad TV
1. Too much sports - mainly football which even lasts longer in reporting than world news.
 2. Bad old films - particularly on Saturday afternoons & evenings.
 3. Games shows - involving winning large amounts of money.
 4. Making over gardens - done to death.
 5. Making over houses - who ever lives again in the rooms?!
 6. Eastenders last 6 months. Violent & immoral - no longer believable as real people.
- (PTO)

7. We have a wonderful heritage of Folk Dance & Song in the British Isles.

It is hardly given any time except to provide a "quaint" backdrop in some play or interview.

But we are swamped by noisy "pop" music - usually from American sources.

8. Thump, thump, music, often inappropriately, backs too many programmes from gardening to shots of the wild world.

PLEASE. use British Ethnic music instead. It is often far more appropriate.

Good 1) Programmes on holidays.

T.V.

2) Archaeological digs.

3) following ancient routes to see world features - eg. Michael Palin and Dan Crookshank.

4) What the Romans did for us.

5) Countryfile on Sundays.

6) Films of the countryside eg.

7) Bill Oddie & birds. (Cotswolds).

8) Question time with R. Dumbleby.

9) Plays - classics adaptations (no one can beat the BBC on this)

10) Political discussions

11) Oldies not to lose - Dad's Army. Open All Hours. They are evergreen. To the Manor Born. The Good Life.

Radio The Moral Maze.
All Channel 4.

and mighty World Service broadcasts.
(Woman's hour. The Archers please Keep them.)

Obviously written in a hurry!
Apologies.