Dear BBC,

Your advent in the Press recently asking for viewers answers to programmes they wish to see,

Plays recently have been wonderful:-

The Step-father, The Walk, Fingersmith and of course anything with Julie Walters or Sarah Lancashire in.

Documentaries, Travel, Gardening, Weekend Lunch Mastermind + University Challenge are great to keep ones mind active.

Love Antiques Roadshow, but please rethink about axing "Flog it", a young presenter with terrific personality, good with young + old folk + the visits to places of local interest a joy.

Think "Ready, Steady Cook" has got stale lately and also all the Pop Idol type shows

Great coverage of BBC News + topical events - Pope's Funeral + Royal Wedding -

Thank you. Yours sincerely,

(MRS. J.P. MARSHALL)
