BBC Charter Review

Dear Sir or Madam

I feel I must write and thank you for your recent coverage of the death and funeral of Pope John Paul II. It was superbly done in a most professional and respectful manner and thanks and congratulations are due to each and every one of the team - in front of and behind the cameras.

These occasions are what the BBC does so superbly and was one reason why I was glad to know your Charter has been renewed. Your immediate and world wide news coverage is greatly appreciated also. I beg you to keep your high standards - they are so badly needed at the present time. Ratings are very transient and no substitute for quality.

Yours sincerely

Anne O'Donoghue

PS. As a pensioner living alone I would greatly value being able to receive Freeview.
When do you think it will become available in my area?
