

27th March

Dear Sir/Madam,

You ask for opinions
prior to the Charter review.

In general I think the BBC is doing well. I listen to Radio 4 and a lot and BBC 2 a fair deal. I enjoy information programmes so no dumbing down please. I realise that independent programme makers "pad"
out their programmes to the point
of making them unwatchable with "rubbish".
Please don't do that.

Also I do not like the craven
bowing of the BBC to all things Europe. Remember a huge number of people do not like/agree with Europe.

Finally I think you should be 100 "political correct". A healthy disregard is important. This is evident in religion - many in the BBC have a healthy antagonism against Christianity but dare not criticise Islam - Either criticise both or none!

Yours Sincerely
A. Walsh.

P.S. many people only use the telephone & letters not computers. so less emphasis.

Digital TV is not so good as you think. So many can't get it or video with it!
