Dear Sir/Madam

I would like to take this opportunity to plead for a curb on all unnecessary violence on the television. I firmly believe that violence breeds violence and the media is certainly fuelling our increasingly violent society. Periodically the issue of violence gets attention in the media but it seems to me that nothing is ever done. I realise that censorship is a contentious issue but some restraints must be put in place for the sake of society as a whole.

Yours faithfully

Mrs SYLVIA WRIGHT
