

25th March, 2005.

Dear Sir/Madam,

Thank you for the opportunity to have my say about the BBC. I enjoy listening to Radios 4, 5, 5 Live Extra, 7 + Kent.

However one thing puzzles and annoys me. I bought a digital radio so that I could listen to 5 Live Extra. You keep saying on that and its sister station that I can listen to different sports on different channels. I do not consider different football matches to be different sports. I now hate football because there is so much coverage and would welcome the opportunity to hear more of other sports, e.g. tennis, cricket and athletics. Also why is TMS on two channels at the same time? I'm an avid listener of the programme but can only listen to it on one channel at a time!

I should also like to say that the weekday weather forecast on Radio 4 longwave, at 5.57pm, is worse than useless. It jumps all over the country and usually gives the weather before the area. During stormy weather it is often dangerous, because it might mention severe gales over coasts. Which coasts? As I listen to the Shipping Forecast I am unable to hear the weather on FM.

Yours Faithfully,
P. J. Finni