Dear Sir or Madam,

I have some pertinent comments to make on the BBC programmes.

Why oh why do you change or alter schedules at the last moment, I can understand when there are sensitive issues at stake but just to 'run over' with the golf, I find very tedious in the extreme.

Your camera work is better, your transmission stations are better than I.T.V. when you do costume dramas for example you do them better than anyone else and your news coverage is second to none. I love being able to watch a programme without commercials and I think your 'intro graphics' the dances and high wire artists are superb. Worth every penny.

I like the BBC and just one of the best programmes is worth the licence many times over. I hope may you continue yours faithfully
Joan Santos.
