

Are you confident you understand your legal requirements under the WEEE Regulations?

If not you may like to attend a free briefing.

- Are you manufacturing electrical and electronic products for sale in the UK?
- Are you retailing electrical and electronic products?
- Are you importing electrical and electronic products?
- Do you brand electrical and electronic products?

If you have answered 'yes' to any of the above questions, and you are unaware of your producer or retailer (distributor) obligations under the WEEE Regulations, you might like to attend a free business briefing being run by BERR.

New legal requirements have now come into force under the WEEE Regulations. Producers must be registered with an approved compliance scheme through which they will fund the collection and recycling of waste electrical and electronic equipment. There are also new information requirements and a need to ensure equipment is marked. Retailers are now required to offer free take back of waste products when selling replacement products or must join the 'Distributor Take Back Scheme'.

These focussed briefing sessions are aimed at companies affected by the Regulations and will provide you with the information you require to make sure you are legally compliant. Each session will include a presentation by BERR followed by a question and answer session.

There is no charge to attend the briefings. If you would like to attend please complete the following. Places will be allocated on a first come, first served basis.
