

BERR's Public Bodies Directory
2009
As at March 2009

Footnote:

On 5 June 2009 the Prime Minister created a new Department for Business, Innovation & Skills. The new Department was created by merging the Department for Business, Enterprise and Regulatory Reform with the Department for Innovation, Universities and Skills. This Report sets out the information on public bodies for the Department for Business, Enterprise and Regulatory Reform for the 12 Months to 31 March 2009.

November 2009

This document shows the position at 31 March 2009 (financial information information for the 2008-09 financial year unless otherwise indicated).

This directory gives a comprehensive snapshot of the public bodies sponsored by BIS as at 31 March 2009. Public bodies carry out a wide range of functions on behalf of government.

What is a Public Body?

A public body is not part of a government department, but carries out its function to a greater or lesser extent at arm's length from central government. For this reason non-Ministerial departments and our executive agencies are excluded from this directory.

Ministers are ultimately responsible to Parliament for the activities of the bodies sponsored by their department and in almost all cases (except, for example, where there is separate statutory provision) ministers make the appointments to their boards. Departments are responsible for funding and ensuring good governance of their public bodies. In this publication, each body is allocated to its sponsoring department.

The term 'public body' is a general one which includes: Non-Departmental Public Bodies (NDPBs); Public Corporations; NHS Bodies; and Public Broadcasting Authorities (BBC and S4C). There are four types of NDPB. These denote different funding arrangements, functions and kinds of activity. They are:

- Executive NDPBs - established in statute and carrying out administrative, regulatory and commercial functions, they employ their own staff and are allocated their own budgets.

- Advisory NDPBs - provide independent and expert advice to ministers on particular topics of interest. They do not usually have staff but are supported by staff from their sponsoring department. They do not usually have their own budget, as costs incurred come within the department's expenditure.

- Tribunal NDPBs - have jurisdiction in a specialised field of law. They are usually supported by staff from their sponsoring department and do not have their own budgets.

- Independent Monitoring Boards - formerly known as 'Boards of Visitors' - 'watchdogs' of the prison system. Their duty is to satisfy themselves as to the state of the prison premises, their administration and the treatment of prisoners. The sponsoring department meets the costs.

Terms Of Reference	Regional Industrial Development Boards (RIDBs) advise Regional Development Agencies (RDAs) on individual company applications for Grant for Business Investment (GBI) in England between £250k (£100k in Eastern Region) and under £2m.
Notes	The RIDBs were established in 1972 and consist of the following 7 bodies - 1) London and South East, 2) Eastern Region, 3) North East, 4) North West, 5) South West, 6) Yorkshire and the Humber and East Midlands and 7) West Midlands. The activities of the RIDBs are included in an annual report to Parliament on the exercise of powers under the Industrial Development Act 1982. This report is published by The Stationery Office and is available on the web:

http://www.BIS.gov.uk/files/file52011.pdf
During 2008/2009 BIS conducted a review of the RIDBs in consultation with the Cabinet Office to ensure that their governance arrangements remained relevant in view of the significant changes to the way in which support in the regions is handled since they were established, particularly the creation of RDAs and the delegation to them of responsibility of operating business support schemes previously undertaken by the Government Office network. This review concluded that the appropriate way forward would be to replace the RIDBs, which are currently Non-Departmental Public Bodies appointed by Ministers, with advisory investment panels, to be appointed and supported entirely by the RDAs. It is expected that the RDAs will appoint new advisory panels to replace the RIDBs over the course of 2009/2010.

Risk and Regulation Advisory Council

Ad-Hoc Advisory Group
Date Established	16 Jan 2008	Date Reported/Due to Report	20 May 09 (& 29 July 09)	Report Details	20/5: Main report to Government and four supporting guides and tools. 23/7: Health & Safety Report
Date Wound Up	April 09, now awaiting gov response to findings
Notes	The Risk and Regulation Advisory Council has been leading an experimental offensive against the mishandling of risk in society. It has examined how distorted perceptions of risks can encourage poor policy-making and unnecessary laws, leading people to feel that Government is interfering too much in their lives. The Council's has now published its final report 'Response with responsibility: Policy-making for public risk in the 21st century'. The report summarises the Council's findings, introduces the Council's approach and tools for dealing with public risk, offers advice for Ministers in charge of responding to a risk and sets out the Council's recommendations. The Council has also published guides and tools to help policy-makers and the public tackle public risk.

NB. Departments should provide information which should be a snapshot as at 31 March 2009 of all who hold public appointments on that date (whenever they were appointed).

NB. Departments should provide data on the number of men and women from a minority ethnic background, and those who have declared a disability, for (a) ministerial appointments only and (b) all appointments (including Ministerial). ‘All appointments’ includes Ministerial appointments, so the figures in the ‘all’ column should be at least as high as the figures in the ‘Ministerial’ column.
