

Central Government Emergency Response Training – 2010

The CGERT programme provides training for two groups of Crisis Management response.

Group A/B - Advisors and Operational Personnel:

Officials working within the Central Response in Departmental cells. Also includes members of Government Liaison Teams and administrative, technical and operational staff.

Group C - Delegates:

Predominantly senior staff (SCS) liable to attend Strategy Group meetings, the Civil Contingencies Committee (Official) or those who have a leadership role in crisis management. Staff leading departmental crisis management teams may also wish to be included in this group.

General training:

Module 1 is for both Group A/B and Group C and provides orientation and familiarisation with the national crisis management facilities. The session starts at 10.30am and runs for approximately 1 hour 30 minutes.

Module 2 is a directed reading package for both Group A/B and Group C. The module is designed to build understanding of the concepts of crisis management at a national Strategic Level. Reading links for the appropriate group can be found at the following website:

Those attending either Group A/B or Group C training should familiarise themselves with the Module 2 reading beforehand.

Group-specific Training

Group A/B training is a combination of Modules 3 & 4 and runs for a full day. The session covers information and support processes and making strategic decisions in crisis management.

Group C training is Module 4 and runs for a half day. The session focuses on making strategic decisions in a crisis management environment.
