Dear Colleague

Thank you for registering for the Strategic Risk Management course. This course will examine issues in strategic risk management, with an emphasis on achieving integration and coherence at corporate and multi-agency levels in emergency planning, response and recovery.

We would normally expect participants on this course to have completed the Introduction to Civil Protection course, or at least be familiar with the requirements of the Civil Contingencies Act (2004).

In order to get the most out of the course please read the information below and prepare for the course as suggested.

1. What to do now: For those of you who are new to Civil Protection, or indeed those who may wish a refresher before coming on a course, please go to our pre-course work link and read the information provided, before attending this course.
2. What to bring to the course: Participants are encouraged to bring a copy of their LRF Community Risk Register to the course. In addition to this any further publications from your organisation, internal or public, that focus on risk assessment and communication and wider risk management issues would be useful to review and reflect upon during the course.
3. How the course is delivered: the course will be based around presentations followed by group and individual exercises that will help you apply the concepts to your own situation. The emphasis at the College is on highly interactive courses and you will be encouraged to share experiences, ask questions and explore issues in the interests of you own learning and that of other delegates.

Please do not hesitate to contact our learning support team if you have any queries.
We look forward to seeing you at the college.

Yours faithfully

Learning Support Manager
