

I think the report is good, but I would like to add, that the cost of care is going up all the time, yet the limit is still on how much one can pay for the care. My carers are low paid, because I can only pay out what I am given. I organise 24 hours of care and I get a maximum amount given, yet the wages are still low, and not being able to get any extra means that my carers get less and less while other people non carers get more. Caring is a profession and should have a better built in pay scale.

Thanking you,

Dorcas Munday.
