

List of possible remedies

The Financial Times Group Limited and its subsidiaries might be required to:

- (a) make licences available to hosts to (i) carry on their databases material from the FT and other publications owned by Financial Times Group Limited and its subsidiaries and (ii) make such material available to their customers; and
- (b) refrain from requiring, as a condition of supplying the reference services to information brokers, that they agree to provide information about their clients.