

Prices for track days

1. Table 1 shows the price for track days for various operators and circuits. The data were obtained from company web sites and promotional literature. They do not represent a complete survey of all track days, for example, because some companies did not have websites or were not promoting their days. The quality of the service offered will vary depending on the time of year, number of groups on the circuits, noise restrictions, availability of instruction and so on. Therefore the prices are not strictly comparable. Also, in some cases 'club membership' fees will be charged. Car and bike days are both recorded, although we distinguish between On Track's car and bike operations.

2. We have attempted to exclude any track days which are for the evening only or have restrictive conditions on the type of vehicle that could be used, for example, single manufacturer days.

3. An average track-day price is calculated for each circuit or other venue, and each is ranked in terms of average price as far as possible. This is complicated by the different circuit formats at Silverstone and Brands Hatch particularly.
