

My View on this topic

The Digital One multiplexes for radio and radio related text services such as 'now and next' and 'station information'

DAB radio is about quality sound and the stations - the capacity should not be used for data and other applications unless it is directly to do with the service operators on the multiplex such as Capital Life and Virgin Radio

In my view using part of the space for mobile TV services and data that is nothing to do with the radio multiplex is trash!

By reducing the quality of what's there it is not going to promote DAB at all - its going to create bad press if people complain.
