Chapter 1: Introduction

As of 31 March 2008, DCMS is responsible for 61 public bodies that help deliver the department's strategic aim and objectives. These include three public corporations, two public broadcasting authorities, one executive agency and 55 non-departmental public bodies (NDPBs). NDPBs fall into three categories: executive, advisory and tribunal. Over 94% of DCMS's expenditure is channelled through these bodies.

The relationship between DCMS and its public bodies is a balance between independence and accountability. On the one hand, public bodies perform functions best carried out at arms length from government. For example, some are regulators, and must be seen to be independent of political interests. Others need specialised expertise not found in general public administration.

On the other hand, public bodies spend public money, from the Exchequer or from the National Lottery, and are therefore accountable to the public, Ministers and Parliament. While they should have a large measure of freedom to determine how they operate, they need to do so within the framework of policies and priorities developed by the sponsor department and agreed by Parliament.

That framework is encapsulated in the following key documents, one or more of which applies to most of our public bodies:

- the Public Service Agreement (PSA) sets out our aims and objectives, which encompasses the work of all our public bodies, and our key targets. Details of our PSAs can be found on page 28 of the DCMS Annual Report 2008;
- the funding agreement supports the PSA by explaining what each public body will deliver for the public funding allocated to it, and why; the agreement, signed every two years by the Chair of the body and the Secretary of State, summarises strategy, key activities, and outputs to be delivered;
- the management statement and financial memorandum sets out the rules and guidelines that a public body should observe in carrying out its functions; it is reviewed periodically, but the content remains fairly constant;
- In the case of the National Lottery distributing bodies, policy and financial directions, and a statement of financial requirements set out rules on the treatment of Lottery proceeds, particularly where this differs from the treatment of Exchequer funds.

In addition, all the public corporations, public broadcasting authorities and executive NDPBs are required to produce annual reports and accounts that are either laid before Parliament or placed in the Library of the House of Commons.

We share responsibility with the Department for Business, Enterprise and Regulatory Reform (BERR) for the Office of Communications (Ofcom, a Public Corporation) and the Design Council (an Executive NDPB). Further information on these bodies can be found on BERR's website (<http://www.berr.gov.uk/>).

Chapter 2: Key to Directory Fields

Classification and Key Details of Public Bodies

Public Body Classification

A public body is not part of a government department, but carries out its function to a greater or lesser extent at arm's length from central government. For this reason non-Ministerial departments and executive agencies are excluded from this directory, as they are departments or part of one.

Ministers are ultimately responsible to Parliament for the activities of the bodies sponsored by their department and in almost all cases (except, for example, where there is separate statutory provision) ministers make the appointments to their boards. Departments are responsible for funding and ensuring good governance of their public bodies.

The term 'public body' is a general one which includes: Non-Departmental Public Bodies (NDPBs); Public Corporations; and Public Broadcasting Authorities.

Non-Departmental Public Bodies (NDPBs)

There are a number of types of NDPB. These denote different funding arrangements, functions and kinds of activity. They include:

Executive NDPBs - established in statute and carrying out administrative, regulatory and commercial functions, they employ their own staff and are allocated their own budgets.

Advisory NDPBs - provide independent and expert advice to ministers on particular topics of interest. They do not usually have staff but are supported by staff from their sponsoring department. They do not usually have their own budget, as costs incurred come within the department's expenditure.

Tribunal NDPBs - have jurisdiction in a specialised field of law. They are usually supported by staff from their sponsoring department and do not have their own budgets.

Public Corporations

Public Corporations are market bodies that derive more than 50% of their income from the sale of goods and services. Some charge for regulatory activities where these provide a significant benefit to the person paying the fee. They are owned or controlled by central government. They have substantial day to day operating independence so that they should be seen as institutional units separate from their sponsor departments. Otherwise they may have similar features to Executive NDPBs as detailed above.

Public Broadcasting Authorities

The term Public Broadcasting Authority is a unique public body category currently encompassing the British Broadcasting Corporation (BBC) and S4C (Sianel Pedwar Cymru, the Welsh Fourth Channel Authority).

The BBC is governed by Royal Charter and an associated Agreement with Government. These arrangements reflect the Corporation's independent status and its unique accountability directly to the licence fee payer. The Charter and Agreement set out the BBC's accountability to Parliament for use of the public money it receives whilst at the same time preserving the BBC's independence on editorial policy and programming.

S4C is a statutory corporation. Its governance arrangements and functions are set out in the Broadcasting Acts of 1990 and 1996 and the Communications Act 2003. S4C's Chair and members are appointed by the Secretary of State and the Authority is responsible for S4C's strategic policy and for ensuring the fulfilment of its statutory functions. S4C is funded primarily by a Government grant, the level of which is prescribed by statute.

Contact details

Address, phone, fax, e-mail and website details.

Date established

Records the date the body was established.

Multiple Bodies

Indicates the total number of bodies within a multiple body system – a zero indicates that it is not a multiple body.

Regulatory Function

Indicates where the body performs a Regulatory function. "Regulation" is defined as 'exerting powers over, or imposing burdens on, other organisations or individuals; by means of inspection, licensing, referral to another decision-maker (particularly with binding advice), accreditation or enforcement.'

Public Body Statistics

Chair (or equivalent title)

Shows the name of the Chair as at 31 March 2008.

Chair's Remuneration

Remuneration figures are generally rounded to the nearest pound and do not include normal expenses, such as travel and subsistence. An entry of zero may mean that the post is unpaid, or that the post holder does not claim the remuneration (aside from normal expenses) to which he or she is entitled. Amount shown will be for the period 1 April 2007 to 31 March 2008 unless otherwise stated.

Chief Executive/Secretary

Shows the name of the Chief Executive/Secretary as at 31 March 2008.

Chief Executive/Secretary's Remuneration

Not shown if the Chief Executive/Secretary is a civil servant, where '0 Civil Servant' will appear. Chief Executive remuneration totals comprise the basic salary plus:

- geographical allowances such as London Weighting;
- performance related bonuses (received during the period 1 April 2007 to 31 March 2008);
- any employer's contributions paid in respect of the Chief Executive under the pension scheme;
- the estimated monetary value of any other benefits receivable by the Chief Executive otherwise than in cash; and
- any agreed sum on taking up appointment.

Amount shown is the amount received during the period for the period 1 April 2007 to 31 March 2008 unless otherwise stated.

Staff Employed

Shows the full-time equivalent number of employees (rounded to the nearest whole number) as at 31 March of the reporting year. This figure does not include staff of the parent department providing a secretariat for executive bodies but does include civil servants temporarily seconded into the body itself, and paid for from the body's funds. BUT for Advisory NDPBs which generally do not employ their own staff the figure shown is the number of WTE (Whole Time Equivalent) secretariat staff supplied by the parent department, where identifiable.

Openness and Accountability

Annual Report

Shows the year of the body's latest published Annual Report. For smaller bodies, the Annual Report may be included as part of a Departmental Annual Report.

Web address for Annual Report

Please click on the hyperlink provided to access the body's Annual Report. Where the latest report is not available online please contact the relevant body directly to obtain a copy.

Last Review

Shows the year in which the body was last reviewed.

Financial Data

Expenditure information

Expenditure information is for 2006-07 unless otherwise indicated. This will be audited data unless otherwise shown in the Notes box. Advisory and Tribunal NDPBs do not normally have their own budgets (but see 'Government Funding' below).

Government Funding - This generally represents grant or grant-in-aid from Government, but in the case of Advisory NDPBs represents the secretariat costs borne by the parent department, where identifiable.

Total Gross Expenditure - Shows the public body's total gross expenditure for the financial year (the 'bottom line' expenditure figure in their income and expenditure account). Will reflect, where appropriate, income from sources other than Government funding eg fees, levies etc. Not applicable for most Advisory NDPBs.

Task Forces, Ad-hoc Advisory Groups and Reviews

It took over the role previously held by the Gaming Board for Great Britain in regulating casinos, bingo clubs, gaming machines and the larger society (charitable) lotteries and now also has responsibility for regulating betting and remote gambling. Its core objectives as a regulator, enshrined in the 2005 Act, are to keep crime out of gambling, to ensure that gambling is conducted fairly and openly and to protect children and other vulnerable people.
