

What would truly seem ecumenical and honorable would be if PLR were extended to authors under contract to and published by (exclusively, in my case) UK publishing firms.

I am an American but I have written for Harlequin Mills and Boon for more than 20 years. It does seem unfair that I have no access to money distributed through PLR!

Respectfully,
Sandra Marton