

January 2007

Richard Hunting re-appointed as Chairman of the board of the Geffrye Museum

David Lammy, Minister for Culture, has reappointed Richard as Chairman of the board of the Geffrye Museum. The term will be for a three-year period, from 01 January 2007 to 31 December 2009

Biographical Notes

Mr Richard Hunting

Chair of Hunting Plc, from 1991 to date. He has been a Commissioner of the Royal Hospital Chelsea since 2002, is a director of the medical charity CODA and is a Past-Master of the Ironmongers' Company.

Richard Hunting has not undertaken any political activity in the last five years.

Notes for Editors

1. The Geffrye Museum is a specialist museum of English homes and gardens, particularly of the urban middle classes. It is set in beautiful Grade 1 listed, eighteenth-century buildings, formerly the almshouses of the Ironmongers' Company, located in Shoreditch, East London. Established in 1914 by the London County Council, the museum was transferred to an independent trust in 1990 and is supported by government grant through the Department for Culture, Media and Sport.
2. The post is not remunerated. Reasonable expenses can be claimed.
3. This reappointment has been made in accordance with the Office of the Commissioner for Public Appointments' Code of Practice.
4. All public appointments are made on merit and political activity plays no part in the selection process.