ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

The members of the evaluation team wish to express their appreciation to DFID, and staff of the RNNRS for their support and full cooperation throughout the course of the Evaluation. In particular, the Panel would like to thank Dr. Elizabeth Warham for tirelessly ensuring that the necessary information and assistance was provided to the Evaluation Team in carrying out its mission. The Evaluation Team is indeed grateful for the constructive and open attitude, and the willingness of staff and other stakeholders at all levels to give generously of their time and help whenever requested. Special thanks to all Programme Managers and their staff for presentations, discussions, and various materials prepared for the benefit of the Evaluation Team. Their input was critical.

The arrangements made for Core Team's visits to Africa and Asia were excellent. The Core Team would like to express special thanks to all RNNRS collaborators who sometimes took time off from holidays and weekends to brief the team and provide all necessary information. The Team is especially grateful for logistics and other arrangements so efficiently made during its country visits by Dr Joseph Cobbina in Ghana, Dr Fred Owino in Kenya, Dr Dan Kisauzi and his team in Uganda, Krystyna Krassowska in Indonesia, Dr Mokhlesur Rahman in Bangladesh, and Dr Jain in India.

Finally, the Core Team wishes to record its special appreciation to the Evaluation Steering Group for its wise guidance and advice which helped sharpen the methodology, thinking and reporting of the evaluation.

Full responsibility for the text of this report rests with the authors. In common with all evaluation reports commissioned by DFID's Evaluation department, the views contained in this report do not necessarily represent those of DFID or of the people consulted.
