

I am totally oppose dto any extension of the copyright time limit to 95 years as proposed. The effects will be disproportionate, and prevent small companies publishing works of minority interest, whilst allowing giant companies to continue to exert commercial censorship

Peter Cripps