13.2 DEPARTMENT FOR INTERNATIONAL DEVELOPMENT

The Department for International Development (DFID) is the UK Government Department with lead responsibility for international development. DFID's aim is to reduce poverty in poorer countries, in particular through achieving the internationally agreed Millennium Development Goals. DFID provides money and technical support to poor countries directly and through multilateral agencies; it also seeks to ensure that the international system, e.g. trade rules, works more effectively for poor people. It assists victims of natural or man-made disasters and has a role in building support for development within the UK. DFID works from two UK headquarters, in London and East Kilbride, and from 67 overseas offices.

Further information on the Department for International Development can be found at the following website address: www.dfid.gov.uk
