PRESS RELEASE

COALITION REBUILDS DAMAGED SCHOOL

The primary school in Al Muthanna has been officially re-opened after it was extensively renovated with the help of British troops.

The school caters for 400 children of both sexes, aged between 6 and 12. It had been seriously neglected during the previous regime, and was little more than a shell before the project began.

The Coalition invested $22,000 in the project, which was overseen by soldiers from the Recce Company of 1st Battalion The Royal Scots. Eight classrooms were replaced, as well as toilet facilities and offices.

The project took 40 days to complete. Another four classrooms and a toilet block are now planned to allow the school to teach even more children.
