

Exhibit 1 – List of Meetings and Events

The table below splits my meetings with media proprietors, senior editorial and executive staff or political editors from within the media, starting with my election as Leader of the Liberal Democrats and ending in March 2012. The list is split into three categories:

- a) Those events that took place in my role as Leader of the Liberal Democrats, before I entered Government;
- b) Smaller, usually more formal meetings, that took place after I became Deputy Prime Minister
- c) Those events that are informal in nature or with a larger group of people at which journalists were present, which took place after I became Deputy Prime Minister.

I do not have exact records of who provided hospitality, particularly before May 2010. However on the large majority of occasions it would be the journalists or media organisations who provided hospitality, so that is what I have put down unless I have specific information otherwise.

The large majority of meetings would have involved general political discussion, listed here as ‘general issues’. Where meetings were specifically about one subject then that has been noted in the list.

The list is based on diary records, which are not always complete. I have nevertheless attempted to make it as accurate as possible.
