

Quentin Letts ventures deep into the historic Rhondda constituency of the MP in the Y-frocks

How gay is my valley?

BIG MONEY PRIZE only had one hobby when it hit the headlines and when he saw the photograph of his local MP yesterday he almost swallowed that last possible breath when that picture opened the door to his world.

And then, as the colour drained from his face, he remembered the picture of the Geth Gladed tavern, that "gay-friendly" pub.

Quentin Letts, the Rhondda MP, must have been in a state of panic when he saw the picture. He had just been elected to the House of Commons and he was a Conservative MP. He had just been elected to the House of Commons and he was a Conservative MP.

... (text continues) ...

Hooky Price and his dog Minor 3 would have Bryant shot

'God help us!' cried Hooky when he saw the photo. 'Landlord, give me a whisky and quickly!'

The MP and the offering Venetia

... (text continues) ...

M... (text continues) ...

... (text continues) ...

... (text continues) ...

... (text continues) ...

... (text continues) ...

HOOKY PRICE said he was looking forward to the Geth Gladed but the good news was that he would not be there. He was a Conservative MP and he was a Conservative MP.

The COOPERATIVE BANK
 CUSTOMER CHOICE AWARDS 2003

0%

Glad tidings we bring
 No interest for six months!

Enjoy Christmas at its best with 0% credit cards from The Co-operative Bank. Get more from Christmas and beyond with 0% interest for six months.

For an instant decision phone 0800 0280 280
 or visit www.nowinterest.co.uk

... (text continues) ...

14.9% p.a. 13.0% APR

... (text continues) ...