From a News Corporation spokespersonMark Thompson has had a year to reflect on widespread and legitimate criticism of the governance of the BBC, its value for money and the effect its size is having on commercial competitors. He has failed at any point to address the impact that the scale and scope of the BBC's activities is having on an all-media digital marketplace which is worrying for the future of independent journalism."

My view is that MT's speech was a failure - a whimper really. It wasn't bright or inspiring in any way. The research was self-serving and laughable. He failed to respond at all to criticism that is warranted. Or really explain any reason why the BBC is criticised at all. He is in a trap over many things, most of all trying to whip up fears about Sky's success. Am flying back to family in France now. Bon week-end Fred.
