Social security benefits are paid by the Department for Work and Pensions. The Department includes Jobcentre Plus, The Pension Service, the Child Support Agency, the Disability and Carers Service and the Appeals Service.

We are now introducing Jobcentre Plus offices across the country in place of Jobcentres and social security offices. If you are of working age there are two different ways of making a claim.

If you are in an area with Jobcentre Plus offices, you will need to call your local claim number. This is an 0845 number. Calls are charged at local rate based on current charges from BT landlines. Charges for calls from mobile phones and cable networks may be different.

We will take some claim details and may arrange a work-focused interview at your local office. When you make a claim, we will tell you who your personal adviser will be. They are your main contact to help you look for work, or deal with any other questions you may have.

You can get details of the areas covered by Jobcentre Plus offices and the local claim numbers from your local office, or visit our website at www.jobcentreplus.gov.uk or look in the phone book under Jobcentre Plus.

If you are in an area without Jobcentre Plus, you should continue to use:

- your local Jobcentre if you are looking for work or claiming Jobseeker’s Allowance, or
- your local social security office if you are claiming other working age benefits.

If you live in an area that already has the new Jobcentre Plus offices and want to claim benefit, you should make initial contact by telephone.
The Pension Service now delivers the payment of State Pension and other pension-related entitlements, such as Pension Credit.

It has a network of pension centres, across England, Scotland and Wales, supported by a local service operating in the community.

You can contact The Pension Service by phone on 0845 60 60 265, post or via the internet – visit our website at www.thepensionservice.gov.uk for more information.

If you are claiming or are thinking of claiming a benefit, you may want to know how much money you could get. If you are already getting a benefit or benefits, you may want to check the amounts you get.

This leaflet gives basic rates of benefits. Some social security benefits are not paid at a standard rate, so you will not always be able to work out how much you will get by using this leaflet. All rates are weekly, unless stated otherwise.

If you want information to help you decide if you may be able to get benefits, or if you just want more advice, please contact your local Jobcentre Plus office, Jobcentre or social security office for working age benefits, or pension centre for pension information. See Where to get help and advice on page 30 of this leaflet.

Social security benefit and National Insurance rates usually change on the first Monday in a new tax year. A tax year usually starts on 6 April.

Other formats

This leaflet is also available in large print, Braille and on audio cassette. You can get these from your local Jobcentre Plus office, Jobcentre or social security office or pension centre for pension information.

We use some terms in this leaflet which we explain below.

Dependant
means any person you are responsible for. That is, your partner if you have one, and any children aged under 16. It also includes any children aged under 19 and studying full-time up to A-level or equivalent.

Gross income
means all income before any deductions have been made for things like tax and National Insurance contributions (NICs).

Net income
means income after deductions. These might be for things like tax and NICs.

Non-dependant
means a person who is not a dependant and normally lives with you, such as a friend or relative. This includes an adult son or daughter or an elderly relative.

Partner
means a person you are married to or a person you live with as if you are married to them.

Remunerative work means, for most people, paid work of 16 hours or more a week.

Spouse
means a husband or wife.

This guide went to press in October 2005. Changes to the law after that date may affect some of the rules explained here. In particular, the Civil Partnership Act 2004 is expected to come into force on 5 December 2005. This will change the way we treat same-sex couples. When that happens, people of the same sex who have formed a civil partnership will be treated, as far as possible, in the same way as a married couple. Same-sex couples who are living together as if they were civil partners (but who have not formed a civil partnership) will be treated in the same way as unmarried couples.
Armed Forces Compensation Scheme

You can find detailed information about the Armed Forces Compensation Scheme in the Veterans Agency booklet Your Compensation Scheme Explained. You can get this booklet from the Veterans Agency Helpline. The phone number is 0800 169 2277. People with speech or hearing problems using a textphone can dial 0800 169 3458.

Attendance Allowance

Higher rate £60.60
Lower rate £40.55

Bereavement benefits

If you started getting benefit before 9 April 2001 because you are widowed, you may be getting a widow’s benefit. See page 22.

Bereavement Payment (lump sum) £2,000.00
Widowed Parent’s Allowance £82.05
Bereavement Allowance (standard rate) £82.05

Age-related Bereavement Allowance

Rate depends on your age at the time of your spouse’s death or when Widowed Parent’s Allowance stops.

Reductions after 52 weeks in hospital

Your benefit will be reduced when you have been in hospital for more than 52 weeks. If you are in hospital for more than 52 weeks and do not have a dependant, you will receive £16.40. If you have a dependant, you will receive £16.40. Your dependant can receive extra benefit while you are in hospital – you need to apply for this extra benefit.

Carer’s Allowance

Carer’s Allowance £45.70

Christmas Bonus

Paid with some benefits, only one bonus for each person. You must be entitled to at least one of these benefits on a day during the week beginning with the first Monday in December. £10.00

Council Tax Benefit

The most Council Tax Benefit you can get is the full Council Tax you have to pay. There are special rules for students.

If you or your partner (if you have one) are aged 60 or over, the rates used to work out your Council Tax Benefit are generally the same as those used to work out Pension Credit, although, unlike Pension Credit, any dependent children are included in the calculation.

If:

• you and your partner (if you have one) are aged under 60, or
• you or your partner (if you have one) are aged 60 or over but are receiving Income Support or income-based Jobseeker’s Allowance (JSA).

Rates used to work out your Council Tax Benefit are generally the same as the allowances and premiums that make up Income Support and income-based JSA.

There are a few exceptions.

Hospital personal allowance

Specific hospital personal allowance rates are covered in the individual benefit sections.

Changes to the hospital downrating rules

The intention is that, from April 2006, patients receiving free in-patient treatment in NHS hospitals will no longer have their benefits reduced to a flat-rate figure. This will mean that anyone going into hospital from April this year – provided they were not in hospital during the previous 28 days – will not have their benefit reduced to the flat-rate amount. For everyone else the current rules will continue to apply until April 2006.

There will be no changes to Disability Living Allowance (DLA), Attendance Allowance (AA), Constant Attendance Allowance (CAA) and Carer’s Allowance (CA) rules with regard to hospital in-patient care. The associated premiums in the income-related benefits and the extra amounts in Pension Credit will also end once DLA/AA/CAA and CA end.

Housing Benefit

The most Housing Benefit you can get is the same as your eligible rent. This may not be the same as your full rent.

If you or your partner (if you have one) are aged 60 or over, the rates used to work out your Housing Benefit are generally the same as those used to work out Pension Credit, although, unlike Pension Credit, any dependent children are included in the calculation.

If:

• you and your partner (if you have one) are aged under 60, or
• you or your partner (if you have one) are aged 60 or over but are receiving Income Support or income-based Jobseeker’s Allowance (JSA).

Rates used to work out your Housing Benefit are generally the same as the allowances and premiums that make up Income Support and income-based JSA.

Reductions after 52 weeks in hospital

Your benefit will be reduced when you have been in hospital for more than 52 weeks.

If you are in hospital for more than 52 weeks and do not have a dependant, you will receive £16.40.

If you have a dependant, you will receive £16.40. Your dependant can receive extra benefit while you are in hospital – you need to apply for this extra benefit.

If your husband or wife is in hospital for more than 52 weeks, any dependency benefit you receive for them will reduce to £16.40.
Income Support

Personal allowances, premiums and payments to cover certain housing costs together make up your benefit payment.

Any new claim to Income Support awarded from 6 April 2004 will not include child-related elements because support for children will be provided by Child Tax Credit (CTC). Families on Income Support who have not claimed CTC will be transferred to CTC from autumn 2005. CTC is paid into the main carer’s bank account. To find out about Child Tax Credit see page 31.

After 52 weeks in hospital (single person)
If you are single or a former lone parent who is no longer treated as responsible for your children, your Income Support will reduce to £16.40

Your Income Support may be reduced by more if the people looking after you do not think you can make full use of this money each week.

After 52 weeks in hospital (lone parent or member of a couple)
You may still get help with housing costs you are entitled to and you may still get help with any money paid because you have dependent children. This includes the Family Premium.

If you are a lone parent, your Income Support will reduce to £20.50

If you have a partner, and one of you is in hospital, your Income Support will reduce by £16.40*

If you and your partner are both in hospital, your Income Support will reduce to £41.00*

In some circumstances after 52 weeks in hospital you and your partner may be separately assessed for Income Support.

Guarantee credit

- Single person £109.45
- Couple £167.05

Additional amount for severe disability

- Single person £45.50
- Couple (both qualify) £91.00
- Additional amount for carers £25.80
Savings credit rewards people aged 65 and over for some of the savings they have for their retirement, up to a maximum of:

- £16.44 a week if you are single; or
- £21.51 a week if you have a partner

Housing costs – deductions for non-dependants

Amounts are the same as for Income Support.

Assumed income – sometimes known as income from capital

For each £500.00 or part of £500.00 of capital over £6,000.00 (£10,000.00 if permanently resident in a care home), your entitlement is reduced by £1.00 per week.

Hospital rates

There is normally no change in the guarantee credit for the first 52 weeks, unless the appropriate amount includes an extra amount for severe disability or carers, or you stop being treated as responsible for housing costs.

After 52 weeks:

- the single person appropriate amount will reduce to £16.40
- Couples, if one partner is in hospital, you and your partner will usually be treated as single people for Pension Credit purposes. The appropriate amount for the partner in hospital will be £16.40. The other partner will need to make a new application for Pension Credit.

If both partners are in hospital and you are still treated as a couple, because for example you are both expected to come out of hospital shortly afterwards, your appropriate amount will be reduced by £32.80.

Pneumoconiosis, byssinosis and miscellaneous diseases benefits scheme

Winter Fuel Payments 2005/06

Winter Fuel Payments are paid each year to eligible households that include someone aged 60 or over to help with winter fuel bills. There is extra money for eligible households that include someone aged 80 or over in the qualifying week. The qualifying week for 2005/06 is 19 to 25 September 2005. The amount paid depends on your household circumstances.

People aged 60 or over

If during qualifying week:

- you live alone or are the only eligible person in your household, you should get £200
- you qualified for and received Pension Credit or income-based Jobseeker's Allowance, you should get £200
- there is another eligible person in the household – and you did not get Pension Credit or income-based Jobseeker’s Allowance – you should each get £100
- you live in a care home and did not get Pension Credit or income-based Jobseeker’s Allowance, you should get £100
People aged 80 or over

If during qualifying week:
you live alone or are the only eligible person in your household, you should get an additional £100.
you received Pension Credit, you should get an additional £100.
there is another eligible person in the household who is aged 80 or over (and you did not get Pension Credit) or you were in a care home, you should each get an additional £50.

Workmen’s Compensation Supplementation

- Major incapacity allowance £123.80
- Lesser incapacity allowance up to £45.70

Constant Attendance Allowance and/or Exceptionally Severe Disablement Allowance may be awarded with Major Incapacity Allowance. For details, see page 15.

Common rules

Some common rules apply to:
- Council Tax Benefit
- Housing Benefit
- Income Support
- Jobseeker’s Allowance

Savings rules – savings are sometimes called Capital

- Upper limit (income-based Jobseeker’s Allowance and Income Support) £8,000
- Lower limit (income-based Jobseeker’s Allowance and Income Support) £3,000
- Upper limit (income-based Jobseeker’s Allowance if you or your partner are aged 60 or over) £12,000
- Lower limit (income-based Jobseeker’s Allowance if you or your partner are aged 60 or over) £6,000
- Upper limit (Income Support if your partner is aged 60 or over) £12,000
- Lower limit (Income Support if your partner is aged 60 or over) £6,000
Upper limit (Housing Benefit (HB) and Council Tax Benefit (CTB)) £16,000
Savings/capital are ignored for HB/CTB where a person is in receipt of Income Support, income-based Jobseeker’s Allowance, or the Guarantee Pension Credit (with or without a Savings Credit).

People in care homes
   Upper limit (income-based Jobseeker’s Allowance, Income Support, Council Tax and Housing Benefit) £16,000
   Lower limit (income-based Jobseeker’s Allowance, Income Support, Council Tax and Housing Benefit) £10,000

Income from capital – sometimes called tariff income

Income-based Jobseeker’s Allowance and Income Support
For each £250 or part of £250 of capital over £3,000 (£6,000 if you or your partner are aged 60 or over), your benefit is reduced by £1 a week. Capital over the upper limits will usually mean you cannot get these benefits.

People in care homes
For each £250 or part of £250 of capital over £10,000, your benefit is reduced by £1 a week. Capital over £16,000 will usually mean you cannot get these benefits.

Council Tax Benefit and Housing Benefit
Any person claiming HB/CTB who is in receipt of Income Support, income-based Jobseeker’s Allowance or the Guarantee Pension Credit (with or without a Savings Credit) will not have the tariff income rules applied to their HB/CTB claim, as that person will have their savings/capital ignored for HB/CTB.

Those aged under 60: for each £250 or part of £250 of capital over £3,000, benefit is reduced by £1 a week. Those aged 60 or over: for each £500 or part of £500 of capital over £6,000, benefit is reduced by £1 a week.

People in care homes
For each £250 or part of £250 of capital over £10,000, your benefit is reduced by £1 a week. Capital over £16,000 will usually mean you cannot get benefit. Those aged 60 or over have benefit reduced by £1 a week for each £500 or part of £500 of capital over £10,000.
Expenses for subtenants
Furnished or unfurnished £4.00
Addition for heating (where included) £10.55

Extra benefits for dependants

These payments are added to the basic rates of some benefits.

Dependent adults
For a spouse or a person looking after children with

- State Pension on your own National Insurance contributions (NICs) and Unemployability Supplement £49.15
- Carer’s Allowance £27.30
- Severe Disablement Allowance £27.50
- long-term Incapacity Benefit £45.70
- short-term Incapacity Benefit if you are under State Pension age £35.65
- short-term Incapacity Benefit if you are over State Pension age £43.95
- Maternity Allowance £35.65

Earnings rules

Your own earnings
Carer’s Allowance – you can earn up to £82.00
(after allowable expenses) before it affects your benefit

If you are getting Incapacity Benefit or Severe Disablement Allowance, you may be able to earn up to a permitted work limit of £20.00 or £81.00 without it affecting your benefit.

If you are getting State Pension or a widow’s benefit, you can earn any amount without any effect on these benefits. But if you are getting Income Support on top of either of them, any earnings could reduce your Income Support and therefore the total amount of money you will get.
Dependent adult’s additions

If your adult dependant lives with you, you will not get paid an addition if they earn more than the appropriate amount below:

- State Pension £56.20
- Severe Disablement Allowance £56.20
- Unemployability Supplement standard rate £56.20

If your claim for extra benefit dates from before 16 September 1985 and you are a man with

- Carer’s Allowance £27.30
- long-term Incapacity Benefit £56.20
- short-term Incapacity Benefit if you are over State Pension age £43.95
- short-term Incapacity Benefit if you are under State Pension age £35.65
- none of these £45.09

If your dependent adult does not live with you the limits are:

- State Pension £49.15
- long-term Incapacity Benefit £45.70
- Unemployability Supplement £49.15
- with Severe Disablement Allowance £27.50

Dependent child’s additions

Your dependent child’s additions paid with benefits may be affected if your spouse or partner lives with you and earns more than:

- for the first child £170.00
- for each extra child add on £22.00

Occupational pensions

For benefit claims made since 26 November 1984, an occupational pension paid to your partner counts as earnings.
National Insurance contribution rates

The HM Revenue & Customs National Insurance Contribution Office deals with National Insurance contributions (NICs) and credits. For more information on NI contributions see leaflets:

- CA01 NI for employees
- CWL2 NI contributions for self-employed people. Class 2 and Class 4
- CA08 Voluntary National Insurance contributions.

For copies of leaflets contact your nearest HM Revenue & Customs (National Insurance Contributions) office. You can also view them on the HM Revenue & Customs website at www.hmrc.gov.uk/taxcredits

Employed rate – Class 1

Employee’s earnings threshold £94.00 a week

This is the level of earnings where you have to start paying Class 1 National Insurance contributions (NICs) if you work for an employer. You have to pay NICs on the amount of your earnings above this level.

Lower earnings limit (LEL) £82.00 a week

This is the minimum level of earnings needed to qualify for benefit. If your earnings from an employer reach or exceed the LEL, but do not exceed the Earnings Threshold, you will be treated as having paid Class 1 NICs for benefit purposes on those earnings between the LEL and the Earnings Threshold.

Upper earnings limit (UEL) £630.00 a week

If you work for an employer and earn more than the UEL, you have to pay NICs only at the rate of 1% on those earnings which exceed the UEL.

Non contracted-out rate
