

Who are we?

Each SHA has nominated a director (known as a link director) to work with the NHS Institute on enabling service improvement.

For each link director, the NHS Institute have identified a corresponding NHS Institute director to promote a closer working relationship between organisations:

Strategic health
authority
Director,
NHS Institute
Link director,
SHA

Yorks Humber

Simone Jordan

Ros Roughton

East Midlands
Mick Cawley

Phil DaSilva

West Midlands
Mick Cawley
Eamonn Kelly

North West
Paul Allen
Dean Royles

North East
Simone Jordan

Steve Singleton

East of England
Julian Denney
Steven Welfare

London
Bernard Crump
Paul Corrigan

South West
Helen Bevan
John Bewick

South Central
Helen Bevan

Katherine Fenton

South East Coast

Julian Denney
Sue Webb

Dr Helen Bevan, Director of Service Transformation at the NHS Institute for Innovation and Improvement provides the network with its executive lead.

Other regular members of the network include SHA service transformation leads nominated by the SHA link directors.

Strategic health

authority

Service transformation lead

Yorks Humber

Helen Dowdy and Laura Hibbs

East Midlands
Gary Thompson

West Midlands
Judy Hall

North West
Chris Jeffries, Jane Dunning & Melanie Ogden

North East
Ian Railton and Allison Welsh

East of England
Kate Gill and Chris Birbeck

London
Christine Kirkpatrick

South West
Liz Carter

South Central
Steve Fairman and Nicola Priest

South East Coast

Sarah Tetley and Pauline Smith

The NHS Institute's SHA joint improvement programme team consists of:

- Lynne Winstanley, programme lead
- Deene Barrett, programme manager
- Jacqui Fowler, associate

The team can be contacted on: shajis@institute.nhs.uk