Our health, our care, our say:
a new direction for community services
Contents

Introduction

Foreword 3

Executive summary
- Reforming health and social care 5
- The context of the White Paper 6
- What the White Paper will achieve 6
- The White Paper is aiming to achieve four main goals 7
- How are we going to achieve these improvements? 8
- Conclusions 10

1. Our ambition for community-based care 11
   - Our vision 13
   - Listening to people 14
   - Our challenge 16
   - A new strategic direction 17
   - Making our vision a reality 18
   - Well-being in our communities 19
   - Resources 21
   - Our proposals 21
   - References 21

2. Enabling health, independence and well-being 23
   - Introduction 25
   - Helping people to look after their own health and well-being 31
   - Shifting the system towards prevention 46
   - Social prescribing 51
   - National leadership 51
   - References 52

3. Better access to general practice 55
   - Introduction 57
   - Making it easier to register with an open practice 59
   - Tackling closed lists 60
   - Making it easier for responsive practices to expand 61
   - Health inequalities 63
   - Making it easier to get care at the right time 69
   - Ensuring practices are open when the public wants 70
   - Choosing your primary care professional 73
   - Choosing services that reflect your needs 74
   - References 74

---

Our health, our care, our say: a new direction for community services iii
4. Better access to community services
   Introduction
   Giving people more choice and control over their care services
   Community health services
   Making better use of community pharmacy services
   Improving urgent access
   Rapid access to sexual health services
   Rapid access to mental health services
   Screening for cancer
   Access to allied health professionals’ therapy services
   Reaching out to people in need
   Expectant mothers
   Improving immunisation services
   Teenagers
   People with learning disabilities
   Access to health services for offenders
   Older people
   End-of-life care
   References

5. Support for people with longer-term needs
   Introduction
   The strategic challenge
   Helping people take control
   Better assessment and care planning
   Pointing the way to the future
   References

6. Care closer to home
   The need for change
   Specialist care more locally
   Shifting resources
   Community facilities accessible to all
   Incentives and commissioning
   References

7. Ensuring our reforms put people in control
   Introduction
   Services that engage citizens and respond to their concerns
   Effective commissioning
   Providing support through a national commissioning framework
   Commissioning responsive services
   References